Youstina Amir Adly Eskander

Specialist of Pediatric Oncology and Hematological Malignancies
Assistant Lecturer in Assiut University

Roxy - Heliopolis
+201285531052
yous.amir23@yahoo.com
youstinaamir@med.aun.edu.eg

Dedicated and highly skilled Assistant Lecturer and Specialist in Pediatric Oncology and Hematological Malignancies with over 8 years of progressive experience in diagnosing, treating, and managing pediatric cancer and blood disorders. Proven expertise in delivering patient-centered care in emergency, intermediate, and intensive care settings. Adept at mentoring medical students and residents, conducting clinical research, and publishing peer-reviewed articles advancing pediatric oncology practices. Demonstrates strong collaboration with multidisciplinary teams to optimize treatment protocols and improve patient outcomes. Proficient in quality assurance, preventive care strategies, and compliance with healthcare regulations. Excellent communication, decision-making, and leadership skills, combined with proficiency in Microsoft Office Suite and digital collaboration tools. Committed to continuous professional development and excellence in pediatric healthcare delivery.

Education

Doctorate Degree (MD) in Pediatric Oncology and Hematological Malignancies
- South Egypt Cancer Institute (SECI), Assiut University — In Progress

Master of Science (MSc) in Pediatric Oncology and Hematological Malignancies
- South Egypt Cancer Institute (SECI), Assiut University — Completed 2020

Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery (MBBCH)
- Faculty of Medicine, Assiut University — Completed 2013

Work Experience

Assistant Lecturer | 2020 – Present
South Egypt Cancer Institute (SECI)
Responsibilities
- Providing specialized pediatric oncology and hematology patient care, applying evidence-based treatment protocols.
- Supervising and mentoring medical students and residents in clinical and academic settings.
- Engaging in clinical research and contributing to scientific publications.
- Participating in departmental conferences and continuing medical education activities.

Resident and Demonstrator | 2015 – 2020
South Egypt Cancer Institute (SECI)
Responsibilities
- Rotating annually through emergency, intermediate care, and intensive care units, completing 2 months in each unit every year.
- Assisting senior physicians in diagnosing and managing pediatric oncology and hematological cases.
- Conducting clinical teaching and supporting departmental academic activities.

Resident | 2015 – 2017
Assiut University Hospital | Pediatric Department
- Providing comprehensive pediatric care across various hospital departments, including emergency, intermediate, and intensive care.
- Participating in multidisciplinary clinical rounds and case management.

Trainee Doctor – Hematology Unit | 2023
Children University Hospital, Assiut University

- Training in managing pediatric hematological disorders under supervision.
- Developing skills in handling critical and emergency cases within the hematology unit.

Courses and Conferences

- The 2nd Annual Conference of Pediatric Oncology Department
- South Egypt Cancer Institute, Assiut University — March 2016
- Recent Trends in Management of Pediatric Leukemia
- Pediatric Advanced Life Support
- American Heart Association | American Academy of Pediatrics — 2017
- The 19th Assiut Pediatric Department Conference
- Faculty of Medicine, Assiut University — October 2022
- Challenges in Pediatric Practices

Publications

- Sayed HA., Amir Y., Osman AM. (2020). "Efficacy of Granulocyte Colony-Stimulating Factor in Established Neutropenia in Pediatric Solid Tumors." SECI Oncology Journal, 8(4), pp. 56–60. https://doi.org/10.21608/secioj.2020.189765
- Sayed HA., Amir Y., Osman AM. (2022). "Neutropenic Fever in Pediatric Patients with Cancer in South Egypt: A Report from a Single Institute." International Journal of Cancer and Biomedical Research, 6(1), pp. 47–55. https://doi.org/10.21608/secioj.2020.189765

Career Skills

- Diagnosing and treating pediatric oncology and hematological malignancies with precision and evidence-based approaches.
- Managing critical care patients in emergency, intermediate, and intensive care units effectively.
- Mentoring medical students and residents to build clinical competence and research acumen.
- Conducting clinical research, analyzing data, and publishing findings to contribute to medical knowledge.
- Collaborating with multidisciplinary healthcare teams to improve patient outcomes and treatment protocols.

Personal Skills

- Team Management.
- Decision Making.
- Effective Communication.
- Multitasking.
- Critical Thinking.
- Empathy.
- Adaptability.

Computer Skills

- Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Teams

Languages

- Arabic – Native speaker.
- English – Excellent.
- French – Good.